About Me

Hello, I'm Ilias Groumpas, an aspiring frontend developer with a background in mathematics, a passion for innovation and a commitment to continuous learning.

I'm captivated by the artistry of frontend development, where design meets functionality to create exceptional user experiences. My journey began with a bachelor's degree in mathematics, which honed my analytical thinking and problem-solving skills. Building upon this foundation, I've ventured into the realms of web technologies and programming.

My mathematical background empowers me to approach coding challenges with a unique perspective. I'm skilled at breaking down complex problems and transforming them into elegant solutions. This blend of analytical thinking and coding prowess allows me to contribute effectively to multidisciplinary projects.

Work Experience

Although I lack direct experience in this role, my last decade as Barista has nurtured skills in adaptability, problem-solving, and collaboration. I'm committed to swiftly applying these transferrable qualities to excel in Front-End Development. My dedication to learning and contributing effectively makes me a strong candidate for your team. I'm eager to embrace the training and challenges required to succeed.
